Respected Principal

Carve out your own paths and then your divine virtues may bless you with grace, splendor, vigor and a zeal to conquer the cosmos with your spirits!! Yearn for being a value, instead of success; strive for insights, instead of perfection; crave for awakening your souls, instead of acclaiming the show; covet for your passionate zeal, instead of striving against the vapid perspectives.

Life is neither a game of rebuttal nor a quest for submission! Assuage your inner selves and walk as your mentors guidance seek! The last year has been the testimony to the varied laurels, boundless triumphs and jovial reminiscences.. The clique guided by the mentors and the students, reflected intellect and erudition at all the phrasal.

Let that be the prodigious stanchion embellished into our hearts to scrip those unwritten and new stories of euphoric success. A good going eulogy to all my students to acclaim their dreams which were left unspoken to their heart, to make their parents, their schools proud of themselves!

Happy Reading!!

Principal (MPS International)

Respected Vice Principal

Nothing can stop a blazing mind, a diligent heart and a teacher's kind,

No matter what, we like warriors, will step ahead again and again to give our best.

The same thoughts flash every morning when we, the nation builder's step towards our virtual alma mater to enrich, enhance and explore, the new normal, the virtual classrooms.

The journey begins by taking all necessary measures right from the start; as now, we are imparting education from our homes with more vigor and zeal. The technology has advanced or we should say we have advanced towards better and newer technology.

Silent rooms, four walls of home, yet, the entry of students into the virtual classroom, their zeal, the voice of greetings, happy faces on the screen; turns the morning meaningful. The classes are now managed with the click of a button and share of the code.

The teachers are now techno savvy and maestro in online teaching. The windows are shared, explanations voiced out, discussions are done, queries are solved; everything, just everything goes like a normal class. Never does the teacher stop; be it electricity cut or technical failures, we have learnt the art of switching classes from laptops to phones and vice versa.

Though the life has changed into a more silent and formal one, the one thing that didn't change is the enthusiasm of a teacher to teach and a student to learn, the remarkable delivery of lectures, the enthusiastic morning greetings, the still instilling faith of students, the fondness of healthy classroom discussions and constant moving pace of education. We at mps International promise each day to return with more zeal, new technologies, newer ways of learning teaching methods and more energy to give our best. We the nation builders, move with valor; though unnoticed, unsaid and silent, we keep working.

वो दिन

वो दिन भी क्या दिन थे जब हम स्कूल जाया करते थे। जब मम्मी स्कूल जानेके लिए जल्दी सुबह नींद से जागाया करती तो। बड़ा ही आलस आता। लेकिन जब खयाल आता टीचर जी का आज नया पाठ पढ़ाई तो नींद खुल जाती। फिर जल्दी-जल्दी नहाकर, तैयार होकर, जल्दी से नाश्ता कर लेते। और अपने टिफिन और पानी की बोतल अपने बस्ते में रख कर तैयार हो जाते। फिर अपनी स्कूल बस का इंतजार करते, और समय से स्कूल पहुंच जाते। स्कूल का दिन प्रार्थना से शुभ होता। हम अपनी अपनी कक्षा में चले जाते और अपनी पढ़ाई में व्यस्त हो जाते। जैसे-जैसे समय बीतता जाता हम खेल घंटी होने का इंतजार करने लगते हैं। जैसे ही बेल बजती अपना अपना ट्रिकल घर खाना खाने लगते मन में सोचते के जल्दी से खेल के मैदान में पहुंचे। और मैदान में लगे झूलों पर अपनी बारी आने का इंतजार करते। कितना मजा आता था स्कूल में जब अपने दोस्तों के साथ खेला करते। काश वो दिन जल्दी आ जायें। सच वो दिन भी क्या दिन थे जब हम स्कूल जाया करते थे।

काश वो दिन जल्दी आ जायें। सच वो दिन भी क्या दिन थे जब हम स्कूल जाया करते थे।

Teacher's Corner

In the age of hybrid learning, how can we make mathematics more fun and interesting for the students?

Mathematics has always been an interesting subject if a student pays attention in the class. During online classes, I taught students 'learn with fun' method in which I simplified Geometry with funny shapes and sizes. Algebra and Arithmetic were treated as sisters and taught by asking the students with regular calculations.

The pandemic had a huge impact on all our lives. According to you, how has the lockdown impacted the health of the children?

The pandemic and lockdown have a greater impact on emotional and social development of young children compared to that in the grown-ups. Each picture has its two sides. The plus side of being in lockdown –

- *Children are getting sufficient sleep.
- *Most of the children are eating home-cooked food.
- *Children are joining their parents in workout, yoga, Zumba, etc.
- *Children are helping in housework by cleaning their own home in different ways
- *Families also have more time to do fun together.

Dark side of the lockdown –

*The physical activities of children have significantly come down in this period

*Mental health of children due to quarantine has developed feelings of sadness, anxiety, fear of death, fear of parents' death or being isolated in the hospital

*Mental health is affected because of online schools for a long duration resulting no break in routine, boredom and lack of innovative ideas

*Some children have expressed lower levels of stress for not being able to play outdoors, not meeting friends.

*Behavioral and Emotional Disorders in Children symptoms of mood swings, fear, difficulty in concentration, . poor appetite and being irritable are common psychological conditions noticed during lockdown

*The most painful is – More than a million children have fallen into extreme poverty

To thrive from such conditions – A secure family environment is required. Which the parents can provide is a strong protective environment.

Restrict screen time and news time for children. Engage them in creative activities, in diet more of green vegetables and fresh fruits and less of carbohydrates, specially sweets and junk foods.
